Public lecture

Muslim-Christian conflict and Western Identity

Guest-speaker: Claudio Lange (Berlin)

August 14th, 2007 (Tuesday) at 16.30
Mostar, Hotel Bristol

As informal activity of the Second International Conference “Unity And Plurality In Europe”, a public lecture “Muslim-Christian conflict and Western Identity“ will be organised. The lecture will be held on August 14th, 2007 (Tuesday), in Mostar, Hotel Bristol, beginning at 16.30. Guest-speaker is Claudio Lange (Berlin).

It is not possible to exclude relations towards Jews and Muslim as “others” from origination of the European identity. Every serious understanding of European past, present and future assumes serious dealing with those relations. Neglecting, superficiality and prejudices are enemies to all who have them in their feelings and knowledge. That is why the issues on those relations in politics, culture and economy of Europe and European peoples throughout the centuries, are of crucial importance. Those insights are precondition for planning of the better future.

Professor Claudio Lange will reflect on some more important and insufficiently known contents of relation of Christians and Muslims in creating and changing of the European Identity.

Public lecture will be held in English language. It is open to all members and friends of the International Forum Bosnia.
